FLASH! POLICE ANNOUNCE THE SOLUTION OF A GREAT MYSTERY AND THE CLEARING OF PINCUS POPNECKER, DUE TO THE EFFORTS OF THAT GREAT HERO, THE FAT FURY. WHO IS THIS MAN OF MIGHT, THIS PLUMP LUMP, THIS FIERCE FIGURE OF FLYING FAT?

I DON'T KNOW. ALL I KNOW IS THAT I WISH THAT MY HERBIE COULD BE JUST A LITTLE BIT LIKE HIM!

BUT IT'S USELESS. JUST LOOK AT WHAT I HAVE TO PUT UP WITH!

ZZZ-ZZZZ

HERE'S HERBIE!

I'm very modest type. Greatest of all costume heroes in spare time, but never let it go to my head. Same sweet type as always. Just don't get me mad is all. Get mad, start bopping. Start bopping and blood everywhere. So why not be nice? Only requires writing, telling me how wonderful my stories are. Might put in word about how handsome I am, too. Very handsome. Address: "Herbie", 331 Madison Avenue, New York 17, N.Y. By the way—very busy just now judging results of special "Herbie" story-writing contest. As soon as winning entries selected, names of victorious fans will be published in magazine, prizes awarded. First prize story will appear all drawn by Ogden Whitney, with writer credit going to winning fan. Warning—booby-prize winners lay in stock of splints and bandages at once, on account there'll be bopping and bloodshed.

"Dear Editor:-

Your magazines are excellent, especially "Herbie", which I consider to be the best comic book ever published. Everyone I know reads Herbie. I told them that if they didn't, they would be bopped. "With what?", they asked. I told them, "With one of Herbie's lollipops!" That is the reason for your big gain in readership. But do you know that I am very disappointed? I only found 1,236 laughs on the first page. I enjoy your companion magazines, "Forbidden Worlds", "Adventures into The Unknown" and "Unknown Worlds".

—Alan Ruck,
8621 Farragut Road, Brooklyn, New York."

What's this jazz about writing to Editor? I'm big boss around here—address letters to me or get head handed you on tray. Of course "Herbie" best comic published. Something wrong with sense of humor if you only managed 1,236 laughs on first page.

"Dear Herbie:-

Could you tell me how I can join your fan clubs? My friends would like to join it, too. Whenever we read your comics, we find them exciting—and fun, too!

—Geraldine Abergas,
P.O. Box 206, Kailua, Oahu, Hawaii."

Get good advice for you, Geraldine. Why not form first "Herbie" fan club in Hawaii? Your own club—should be even more fun than belonging to someone else!

"Dear Editor:-

I certainly think that your October-November issue was sensational! By the way, I was wondering if you could possibly print a small picture of what terrific Herbie would look like if he didn't have his glasses on and had his hair combed a little bit—and maybe a very little smile! I just can't wait for your very next issue to come out. And I sure hope you print this letter in your "Here's Herbie" section of your terrific "Herbie" comic!

—Robert Doyle,
1649 Wilson Ave., St. Paul 6, Minnesota."

(Please, please, Robert, don't write to me just because I'm Editor! Whenever that happens, Herbie gets mad and I get loll-bopped and I'm the most bopped Editor in all creation! So write to him in the future, hush? And ask him yourself about changing his appearance—I'm chicken!)

"Dear Herbie:-

You are the greatest hero ever. You can take on all the other super-heroes with one hand. You should be President, but on second thought maybe you shouldn't—it wouldn't leave time for all your adventures, and I can't live without them. I barely make it with 8 issues a year. Please make your comic a monthly!

—Tony Isabella,
11203 Peony, Cleveland, Ohio 44111."

Man after my own heart, Tony . . . hope you're fat. One slight mistake. About my taking on all other heroes with one hand. Can do it no hands.

"Dear Herbie:-

Help! I have been searching for a "Herbie" comic book since the middle of August and I have been unable to find one—those traitors have obviously conspired to keep me from my favorite mass of flesh. Please, I'm desperate. I have located an old issue (minus cover) and I am writing for information concerning subscription. I wish to subscribe to "Herbie" right now before I miss the next issue!

—Linda Alfuso, 18 Arborcrest Terrace,
Mattapan, Mass. 02126."

Smart girl, Linda. Knows what to read. Just send $1.44 for 12-issue subscription with name and address and it's yours.

"Dear Herbie:-

I don't think people should call your magazine a comic. The stories in it are a lot better than any comic, so I think it should be called a great magazine. Don't you?

--Steve Paurs,

6518-30th Avenue, Kenosha, Wisconsin."

Nope. Magnificent magazine.

"Dear Herbie:-

Why don't you run for president? You could beat Johnson without even campaigning. My vote goes to you. We need someone like you in office. I think 'A Caveman Named Herbie' was so funny that I'm still roaring!

--Ron Holmes,

2665 So. Raleigh, Denver, Colorado. 80219."

Don't want to beat Johnson . . . I elected him. Besides, am too busy running world. Big job.

"Dear Herbie:-

I have about 300 comic books, and out of all of them, I like 'Herbie' the most. He's the funniest and most interesting comic I've read. I thought he was horrible until I tried one as I was waiting my turn at a barber shop. Since then, whenever I find a new 'Herbie', I buy it!

--Henry Zeff,

414 Michigan Ave., Berkeley 7, California."

What do you mean, you thought I was horrible, Henry? Am horrible! Horriblest hero you ever saw, but very handsome. Very smart. Very fat.

"Dear Herbie (alias 'Fat Fury'):

I'm fishbergasted. Two days ago, I read 'Herbie' No. 2, and like a person in a trance, ran to my store and bought numbers 3, 4, 5 and 6. How do you do it? I would like to know how to get No. 1, and also get a subscription to coming numbers. I wrote this letter so you won't bop me.

--Dennis (Amazed) McConnell,

5410 Susan Lane, Columbus, Georgia."

So what's amazing because I'm amazing? Like I said before, send $1.44 for 12-issue subscription. Will also throw in insurance policy against getting bopped with this here lollipop for time being. But step out of line once, just once—and poos! Right in the kissier! About "Herbie" No. 1 —no copies available. Smithsonian Institute, Library of Congress and Rare Jewel Establishments have bought them all up. How about you other fans? Anybody who can help Dennis out?

"Dear Editor—I mean, Herbie:-

I think that 'Herbie' is one of my best comic books. I'm glad he has his own book now. No. 4, featuring 'Big Fat Mess At The Okay Corral' and 'Professor Filidome's Sewey Machine' made me laugh for hours. When you hop, does the lollipop have super strength, or is it because you are so strong? Could you take on three dozen comic heroes?

--Stephen Jones,

Old Farm, Sturbridge, Massachusetts."

I'm very strong guy, Stephen. Lollipop also very strong. Combination irresistible. Three dozen comic heroes? With my head in bag and apple in mouth!

"Dear Herbie:-

I have just finished reading 'Herbie' No. 8 and have nothing but compliments about the wonderful stories. The best was 'Space-Age Herbie'. But I have a very serious problem. A few people I know (I'd better not mention any names) think you are silly and do not make sense. What should I do? I tell them that 'Herbie' is the world's best comic and all that, but I can't convince them.

P.S.: In our classroom newspaper, I featured a story on you.

--Eddie Smith, 100 S. Turner Avenue, Charlotte 8, North Carolina."

Not silly. Maybe don't make sense, but not silly. Perhaps stupid a little, but very fat, very strong, very brave, very repulsive. Tell friends they don't have to read my magazine—and where do they want bodies sent? And if you featured story on me for classroom newspaper, how about writing one for our big fan contest?

"Dear Herbie:-

I think you're the greatest hero in history! You're brave, kind, loyal, trustworthy, merciful, brave, bold, strong, generous, kind and great! In fact, you're wonderful! Where do they get that 'Fat Little Nothing' stuff? You're handsome, strong and wonderful. I read that letter sent in by Joe Kramer of Seattle, Washington, and hope you hopped him a good one. I think your best stories were 'A Caveman Named Herbie' and 'Space-Age Herbie'. I've bought all your comics. By the way, you'd better bop my sister. She thinks you're nuts.

--Crystal Rogers,

1547 So. Parkwood, Wichita, Kansas."

Not "Fat Little Nothing", Crystal—"Little Fat Nothing". Big difference. And your sister goes bop-free on account of she's right.

HERE'S AN OLD PAL FROM THE DISTANT PAST, DROPPING IN ON THE PLUMP LUMP IN A YUK-YUK YARN THAT BATS A THOUSAND ON THE LAFF-METER! SO LET'S ALL COME ALONG WITH HERBIE, IN...
